

In Text Citations of Widely Used Types of Texts in APA and MLA Format

I will divide you into groups, based on the types of sources below, and you will have to create an MLA or APA bibliographic citation for the type of source you have—use your handbook by to do this.

The Groups

- a. A book with one author
- b. A selection from a book with editors
- c. A book with more than one author
- d. A print journal
- e. An article from EbscoHost
- f. An article from a Webpage

You will create an MLA and APA citation for each on an overhead—using overhead pens this time. Make sure that you check your citation with the Handbook and me.